6.5.1: 6.5.1: Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) has contributed significantly for institutionalizing the quality assurance strategies and processes. It reviews teaching learning process, structures & methodologies of operations and learning outcomes at periodic intervals and records the incremental improvement in various activities

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), a statutory body, was established in 2022 at R K Vigyan Mahavidyalaya to promote and ensure quality. The IQAC oversees the institution's quality assurance system, including planning, monitoring, and evaluating both academic and non-academic activities. The IQAC is chaired by the Principal and comprises faculty, students, and non-teaching staff. The IQAC reviews and discusses the quality assurance system's progress at regular meetings. The IQAC's functions are as follows:

- To create and implement a quality assurance system within the institution.
- Plan, monitor, and assess academic and non-academic activities.
- To identify and address areas for improvement.
- To encourage a culture of continuous improvement within the institution.
- Prepare and submit an annual quality assurance report to the UGC.
- The IQAC plays an important role in ensuring the quality of higher education.
- The IQAC activities enhance the quality of teaching, learning, and research at the institution.
- The IQAC promotes a culture of continuous improvement in the institution.

The following are the steps involved in establishing an IQAC.

The institution's Principal serves as the IQAC.

The IQAC accepts membership applications from faculty, students, and non-teaching staff.

The IQAC shortlists applications and selects members.

The IQAC holds its first meeting and elects office holders.

The IQAC creates and implements a quality assurance system within the institution.

The IQAC is an extremely useful resource for higher education institutions.

The IQAC aims to enhance education quality and foster a culture of continuous improvement within the institution.

Initiatives of IQAC:

To establish student-developed cells.

Decide to organize international/national seminars, workshops, and conferences.

Create a sports board to promote student participation in various sports at the international, national, and state levels.

To provide internal scholarships for Economic Weeks students and sports achievers.

To internal committee constitutions and decide on their objectives and responsibilities.

Contact all committee coordinators to organize events and activities throughout the year.

Role and Responsibility of IQAC

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) aims to maintain consistent quality standards throughout the Institute.

It is a significant administrative body in charge of all quality-related matters. IQAC aims to improve the institution's academic, financial, and administrative performance through a systematic approach. Relevance refers to the quality of academic and research programs. Equitable refers to the affordability of academic programs for different segments of society.

IQAC was conceived as a mechanism for developing and maintaining a quality culture at the institutional level. It creates a systematic approach to enhance the institution's academic, financial, and administrative performance. The IQAC oversees the institution's quality assurance (QA) and enhancement (QE) activities.
